

FREE Fast Track Barclays Business bank account

Ordered Management recommends that all clients who are starting or running a small business open a Barclays Business bank account.

Barclays offers everything you'd expect from a bank worth its salt – a business debit card, cheque book, online and telephone banking and even free banking for a while.

You'll also find they offer a lot more than the basics, and that's why we recommend Barclays to all our new business clients.

For example; all our clients will have access to the following:

- your own Barclays Local Business Manager dedicated to helping you reach your goals
- a Local Business Team available day and night 24/7 to support your everyday and urgent banking needs
- up to two years free banking
- a wide choice of unique award-winning tools to help you control your cash flow, chase any late & unpaid debts, protect your business, pay staff and stay compliant with business regulations
- free business skills training and the opportunity to attend free business seminars and workshops to help you promote & market your business, service your customers, trade online and employ staff
- competitive loans, savings and commercial mortgages; international and financial planning services; as well as business credit cards and card payment facilities

Barclays offers fantastic value for new businesses, that's why Barclays opens a new business account every working minute, and why Ordered Management is happy to recommend a Barclays business bank account.

Fast track account application

Once you have completed your incorporation, Ordered Management will automatically forward your contact details to Barclays.

Within 48 hours of receiving your details, your own dedicated Barclays Business Manager will call you to arrange a suitable time to meet up and open your account. Your Business Manager will be located at a branch that's convenient to your business correspondence address.

Barclays make this process as fast and as integrated with [Company name] as possible, in order to make things simple and ensure you receive a first class service.

Throughout the process, Ordered Management will be kept up to date with your bank account application progress, so if you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.
